MADHYA PRADSH POLITICAL MAP

Child right: - An intensive action for future perspective

Children's rights are the human rights of children with particular attention to the rights of special protection and care afforded to the young, including their right to association with both biological parents, human identity as well as the basic needs for food, universal state-paid education, health care and criminal laws appropriate for the age and development of the child. Interpretations of children's rights range from allowing children the capacity for autonomous action to the enforcement of children being physically, mentally and emotionally free from abuse, though what constitutes "abuse" is a matter of debate. Other definitions include the rights to care and nurturing. The essential message is equality of opportunity. Girls should be given the same opportunities as boys. All children should have the same rights and should be given the same opportunity to enjoy an adequate standard of living.

What are child rights?

CID focuses on the 4 basic rights of children. In 1992, India ratified the United Nations Convention on Rights of the Child. The Charter of Child Rights (CRC) is built on the principle that "ALL children are born with fundamental freedoms and ALL human beings have some inherent rights". The Charter confers the following basic rights on all children across the world:

- Right to survival - To life, health, nutrition, name and nationality.
- Right to development - To education, care, leisure, recreation and cultural activity.
- Right to protection - from exploitation, abuse, child labor, trafficking and neglect.
- Right to participation - To expression, information, thought and religion.

CID and Child rights

CID believes that children are citizens in their own right, entitled to the full spectrum of human rights. Our children will only attain these rights guaranteed to them if each one of believes this should be so and exercises all the power at our command – as parents, neighbors, consumers, employees, businesspeople, teachers, politicians, journalists, professionals, bureaucrats, activists and most importantly as citizens – to make this a reality. CID's role is to amplify the voice of India's children to reach large numbers of people and enlist their support for this cause by speaking out, demanding, negotiating as required with the relevant state or citizen bodies for the rights of children.

By sharing our effort at grassroots levels and mobilizing individuals to address the root causes that lead to violation of child rights. Over the past 20 years, CID has conclusively proven that sustainable change is possible. We must realize that we as a nation cannot hope to enjoy a peaceful and prosperous future as long as there are hundred million children who sleep hungry, hopeless each night. We believe that only when some of us take a stand for child rights we will actually build a nation where all children are treated as citizens with equal rights, livelihood, and participation.

CID believes on sustainable and stable changes among deprived section of children of community. At Gwalior, CID is running various education center to categorized the out of school child to maintain stable effect rights of the child. CID surveyed the situation around our interventional area and found that every child who is out of school is a potential child labor. There for CID aimed to protect child from labor-ship to keeping them engage in education, To make it sustain, CID are working for prevention and rehabilitation of child labour among:-

- Stone Crusher Community
- Carpet weaving Community
- Rag Pickers Community

In rural area, CID is emphasizing for the rights of rundown section of tribe named “Sahariya”. They are totally neglected even for nation’s defined rights for human. CID arrived with various effective actions for right of the child of sahariya tribes. CID started with aanganwari and school to insure quality education including MDM among child of sahariya tribe and other villagers. CID is working in over 100 villages of District Shivpuri, Sheopur, Guna and Ashoknagar.

Education- A need for making tomorrow (Right to Development)

To grant essential and basic education to deprived children is most important part of our organization. They are considered as future of any nation, if plant would be strong by root, it can take a huge and rapid growth similarly it is essential for the child to keep their root rigid to grow healthier. We are working with different sort of communities to take initial for children like rag picker, carpet workers, children from slums and children from rural and backward class too.

In Gwalior Education Centre for Children are being operated in 3 targeted community like rag picker , stone crusher and carpet sector to provide an child friendly environment for full and harmonious development of deprived children who are engaged in different economical activities. CID appoints sufficient number of qualified and committed teachers who are able to deliver quality education to those children. Hereby CID try to equip these children with distinct skills and good quality of education so they can be mainstreamed in education as well as in society.

School ChaloAbhiyan

CID initiate School Chalo Abhiyan regularly in child labor infested area to enroll out of school children into formal school to keep these children away from work. We organize community meetings, rallies, door to door survey, distribution of pamphlet, wall writing and inter personal communication to motivate parents to enroll children in schools. CID volunteers also facilitate enrollment of Children in schools and aware community about right to education bill under which all children of 5-14 year must be in school. We believe that an educated girl can be a source of many educated people of future. Keeping this into consideration, we principally emphasize to enroll girl child into school. This year SCHOL CHALO CAMPAIGN is launched from 16 June. We have organized 8 meeting with 360 member of community including adolescent girl, member of our SHG's and member of community committee at community different places, Awadpura. The centre will serve both to support and strengthen the many educational programs as well as to develop and expand our collective capacities.

Health- An grave outlook

Every year more than 9 million children die before they reach their fifth birthday. Seven out of ten of these deaths are due to preventable and treatable diseases. Many of these deaths could be avoided if the children received timely and appropriate care. More than one-quarter of children in developing regions are under-weight for their age. Even a shocking survey revealed 1/10 children born in India die before their 5th birthday. More than half of these deaths are related to malnutrition. According to UNAIDS, an estimated 33.4 million people live with HIV/AIDS worldwide, of whom about 2.1 million children under 15 years of age. Roughly 17.5 million children under the age of 18 have lost one or both parents to AIDS, and millions more have been affected by a vastly increased risk of poverty, homelessness, school dropout, discrimination and illness.

CID intensely intervened around the MP and Rajasthan to offer preventive and curative health care targeting mothers and Children. A major objective is to ensure that remote populations have access to this care. CID has set up specialized health care and nutrition rehabilitation centers to treat several diseases and it also runs educational programmes to promote safe hygiene and other preventive measures. CID also runs nutrition projects for young children as well as mother and child health care services.

CID remains highly engaged in supporting HIV/AIDS victims. Direct help to infected children is provided through care-access implementation programmes. In addition, programmes are running to avoid social exclusion and provide psychosocial support to victims and their relatives. For affected children, projects are centered on providing psychosocial support as well as material help to orphans. CID also works to prevent infection and minimize prejudice, by increasing awareness and understanding of different concerned issues.

Most commonly found problems among children are skin infections, viral fever, cough, eye flue, malaria, malnutrition, minor injuries and wounds.
